ALUMNI HAVE FALL BALL

More than 130 Oglethorpe alumni and their guests attended the second annual Alumni Dinner Dance at the Hellenic Center in Atlanta on Saturday evening, November 1. Honor guests were Dr. and Mrs. Donald C. Agnew and Dr. Philip Weltner.

Following the social hour and dinner, Creighton Perry, president of the Alumni Association introduced Dr. Agnew who spoke briefly about the achievements of the University. He urged alumni to "transfer your pride in the University into activity in getting us new contacts with good students, into visiting us and supporting our campus activities."

Alumni who attended were Joe Murphy '20, Frank McCormack '25, Keels Nix '28, Dwight Horton '29, Bill Perkins '29, Frank Inman '31, Dan Duke '33, Phil Hildreth '34, Aline Fraser Snowden '34, Mary Hubner Walker '34, Harry Wren '34, Lamar Adams '36, Ray Barnes '36, Frances Collier Duke '36, Cecil Moon '36, Martin Sterling '36, Tommie Carper '37, Creighton Perry '37, Elizabeth Adams Sterling '37, Francis Key '38, Jeanette Bentley Moon '38, George Blanos '39, John Brock '39, Wilson Franklin '39, Ansel Paulk '39, Howard Axelberg '40, John Petosis '40, Frances Bone Paulk '40, Steve Schmidt '40, Jack Woodside '40, Marshall Asher '41, Phil and Jean Mulder Scales '41, Clara Bell Huffman Woodside '41, Betty Waldron Axelberg '42, Melba Connell McBrayer '42, Charles Monsour '42,

(Story below written at earlier date. Full basketball summary will appear in next issue of The Flying Petrel)

The high flying Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe University can be likened this year to an irresistible force. They have swept away every opponent to date, but one, and that defeat came when only six men could play to an ineligibility technicality. The record at this writing with one game to play stands at 20 contests won and one game lost.

(Petrels won last game, Monday, February 23.)

Coach Garland Pinholster has fused seven new men with three returning lettermen into a tightly knit, highly trained unit that has earned the number one rating in the nation for team defense over 450 reporting small colleges. They have allowed their opponents only 41.9 points per game, while they averaged 58. This feat seems all the more amazing when it is pointed out that only one letterman, Billy Carter, made the starting five, and the new men had never played ball together before.

The Petrels swept the Georgia Intercollegiate Conference 14-0 for a perfect record and the first trophy of the newly formed conference. Oglethorpe is seeded first in the GIAC tournament to be held in LaGrange from February 26 to February 28.

Perhaps the outstanding effort of the season in point of spirit came during the homecoming game with Presbyterian College. The Petrels were forced to play with six men due to the aforementioned technicality. The Birds won 59-55 before more than 600 roaring fans. They had no regular center in the game and one starting forward. Freshman Jay Rowland, 6' 1" guard-forward, sank 28 points while playing pivot. The night before PC downed Mercer's Bears

The Birds played Mercer's Bears Monday, February 23 in the final regular game of the season. Coach Pinholster summed up the success of his team in these words: "The boys comprising our squad must receive the lion's share of credit. However the success story of the Petrels is a story written in part by everyone connected with O.U. A big chapter in this story has been provided by Dr. Agnew and the administration. A big chapter was written by Steve Schmidt and the 'Boosters'. The 'pep' band, cheerleaders, scorers, timers, managers, etc. are vital to the Petrels' efforts. Truly, the Petrels represent a team of all those who are loyal to Oglethorpe."

Teacher's Group Meets At O. U.

Atlanta teachers, members of the Association for Childhood Education, spent Saturday, October 25 on the Oglethorpe campus. The topic, "The Outdoors as a Classroom", included an outdoor classroom, field trips, and special interest groups headed by Mrs. Annie Sue Brown, curriculum specialist in science with the Atlanta Public Schools.

O. U. Gets Electron Microscope

Oglethorpe University now has a $12,000 electron microscope which can magnify specimens up to 100,000 times life size. The microscope, which was obtained through a grant from the National Science Foundation as a result of a project carried on by Dr. Arthur Cohen, is in the Neill Meier Memorial Laboratory in Faith Hall.

Dr. Cohen, professor of Biology, is using the instrument primarily for research in continuing his study of development in lower organism. The microscope will allow Dr. Cohen and his associates to study characteristics of organisms which they would be unable to study with ordinary microscopes.

Robin Wynn '61 and Joe Alexander '60 recently took a one week course in electron microscopy at Mount Vernon, New York. Dr. Cohen and the two students brought the microscope, which weighs 750 pounds, from Mount Vernon to Oglethorpe in Dr. Cohen's Volkswagen station wagon.

Oglethorpe University is one of a handful of undergraduate schools in the country which houses an electron microscope.

BOAR'S HEAD

Five new members were initiated into the Boar's Head Honorary Fraternity on December 12 at the fifteenth annual Boar's Head Christmas Ceremony in the Great Hall of Phoebe Hearst. The five students are Joe Alexander, Columbus, Ga.; Lee Barrett, Dallas, Ga.; Joe Duckworth, Albion, Mich.; James Griffin, Atlanta; and Robert Loftin of Montgomery, Ala. Jack Etheridge of Atlanta is president of the organization, and Joe Green of Forest Park, Ga. is vice president.

A musical program, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Lawton, guest teacher and director of the Chorus followed the initiation. Included were selections by the Chorus; a quartet composed of Raymond Toubman, Olivia Toubman, Julia Cohen, and Ethel Oldfield; and an instrumental ensemble with the quartet and Wendell Brown. George Seward, and Ralph Lawton. Solos were sung by Sandra Ellenburg, a sophomore from Atlanta and Oglethorpe Professor of Psychology, Richard Maier.

Faculty children who carried the boar's head this year are Gary Abbott, Tommy Bonhorst, Philip Cohen, and Freddie Dugert. Dr. A. Cheever Crescy, Jr. is advisor for the fraternity.

The Boar's Head Ceremony, the traditional pre-Christmas program in several colleges in this country, was begun at Queens College, Oxford, England in the 19th century. However, the ceremony at Oglethorpe is derived directly from General Oglethorpe's coat-of-arms on which are three boars' heads representing strength, courage, and vigor.

The night before the Boar's Head Ceremony, December 11, the Atlanta Woodwind Quintet, composed of five of the better musicians from the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, gave a concert of chamber music in the Great Hall. The program was made possible through a grant from the National Music Performance Trust Fund with the cooperation of the Atlanta Chapter of the American Federation of Musicians and was sponsored by the Lyceum Committee of Oglethorpe University.

An outstanding program consisting of selections from Beethoven, Haydn, Elsa Barraine, Colomer, Szalowski, and Ibert was presented. Members of the Quintet are Natalie Kruger, flute; Raymond Toubman, oboe; Karl Bevins, clarinet; Daniel Dowdakin, bassoon; and Elwood White, French Horn.

DR. PETERS RECOUNTS HISTORY OF CRYPT

Dr. T. K. Peters, archivist for the Crypt of Civilization at Oglethorpe University, believes that a new crypt should be assembled.

At a speech at Oglethorpe in October, Dr. Peters said that "mankind has made more startling advances during the past seventeen years than in the entire 6,000 years of recorded history that preceded 1940."

The Crypt, which was begun in 1935, took five years to complete. To be opened in the year 8113, it is the "only complete record of a complete generation in 6,000 years," according to Dr. Peters.

It contains records of all knowledge possessed by the world up to the year 1940. It contains 960,000 pages of reading matter on microfilm, including great books written to that time. Bibles of every religion are on microfilm. It also holds typewriters, telephones, musical instruments, writing materials, and recordings of the voices of the great rulers of that time. In case the English language should be forgotten, there are 800 basic words with pictures and sound.

Descriptions of the Crypt and its location were written in all major languages and were sent to every important library and University in the world. Laminated rag paper was used. Through investigation, Dr. Peters learned that rag paper has been found in good condition after more than 4,000 years. With improvements and lamination there is an excellent chance that the descriptions will be readable in 6,000 years. Before he came to Oglethorpe in 1935 as archivist and faculty member, Dr. Peters made five expeditions around the world, studying past civilizations and doing research on rare gases. He invented the first commercial rare gas tubes, many vacuum and rare gas devices, and the first microfilm camera.

3 FACULTY DEDICATE SCHOOLS

On October 26, Dr. Donald C. Agnew, President of Oglethorpe, was the featured speaker at the dedication ceremonies for Briarcliff High School, one of the DeKalb School System's sixteen new schools. Dr. Bohnhorst represented Oglethorpe at Laurel Ridge School and Mr. Goslin at the Oak Ridge School.

BARBARA BAUGHMAN O. U. Sophomore, was first runner-up in recent "Miss White Columns" contest which was part of the 10th birthday celebration of WSB-TV.

SANDRA ELLENBURG, also a Sophomore, won the title of "Miss Congeniality" in the 1958 Miss Atlanta contest.

H Day Set For Saturday May 9

Preparations have already begun for Homecoming Day, Saturday, May 9.

During the past two Homecomings attendance has approximately doubled that of the year before. If this trend continues, some 400 alumni will renew friendships and see the progress being made at Oglethorpe this year.

Your executive committee wishes that a special effort to attend will be made by those alumni whose classes end in "4" and "9".

A gala program, including dinner as guests of the University is being planned for you. Mark the date on your calendar now—we will see you on May 9.

Dr. Agnew Receives Award

President Donald C. Agnew of Oglethorpe University recently received an "Award of Distinguished Citizenship" from the citizens of Denver, Colorado. Dr. Agnew is a native of Denver.

The award, which Dr. Agnew received in absentia, was presented by the Mayor of Denver in connection with the Centennial Celebration of the City of Denver held on October 29.

In 1925 Dr. Agnew came to Oglethorpe as Chairman of the Department of Community Service. In 1955 he became Executive Secretary of the Commission on Colleges and Universities, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the regional accrediting agency for schools and colleges in the Southeastern area. Last January he returned to Oglethorpe as President.

Dr. Agnew graduated from Park College in Parkville, Mississippi, and received his M.A. and Ph.D degrees from Duke University. Before coming to Atlanta, he was president of Coker

Oglethorpe Year In France

A plan for a year of study abroad for qualified juniors, to be known as the Oglethorpe Year in France, has been approved by the faculty of Oglethorpe University. Under this plan students who are interested can spend their junior year at the University of Besancon.

Dr. Arthur Bieler, professor of modern languages and chairman of the Oglethorpe Planning Committee, has made the arrangements with the French University through Dr. Bernard Quemada, Director of the Institute of Languages and Civilization. Dr. Quemada, who is a personal friend and former teacher of Dr. Bieler, has developed what is probably the most up-to-date language laboratory in the world.

The University of Besancon is one of the smaller universities in the French system. This fact enables it to stress student-teacher relations. Besancon is an ancient French city located in the eastern part of France near Geneva and is about a five hour drive from Paris.

Dr. Bieler said that theoretically the plan could go into operation next year but that it would probably be the year after before any students would be ready to go. The expenses for the whole year, including transportation, will be about equal to those of one year at Oglethorpe.

College in Hartsville, South Carolina. Dr. Agnew has also served as a consultant for many colleges in the South.

On October 28, Dr. Agnew received WSB Radio's "750 Award" on the 11:00 P.M. news broadcast.

DR's. AGNEW, SEWARD ATTEND SACSS CONFERENCE

President Donald C. Agnew and Vice-President George C. Seward attended the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Louisville, Kentucky December 1-4. Dr. Agnew is the former Executive Secretary of the Commission on Colleges and Universities of the Association, and is presently a member of the Commission.

Dr. Agnew participated in a panel discussion on the subject, "The Role of Visiting Committees in the Periodic Visitation Program of the Commission". Dr. Seward was a discussion leader at a meeting of the Conference of Academic Deans which met in conjunction with the Southern Association.

ALUMNI GIVING ROSE 50%

There has been a gratifying increase of 50 per cent over last year in total alumni contributions so far this year. The class of 1925 is leading in the total amount contributed with $530, while the class of 1957 is ahead in the number of contributors with 28 alumni giving. Since the fiscal year does not end until May 1, it is not too late to pay your NAAOU and OABC dues, and to make your contributions to the Forward Oglethorpe Fund.

STORMY PETREL MEANS ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE, TOO

The members of the top defensive team among the nation's small colleges have a good chance to become the top offensive unit, too — scholastically speaking.

Mrs. Marjorie MacConnell, registrar, announced that the team's academic average for the fall quarter was 85.35.

Leading scorer for the Birds is sophomore guard, Wayne Dobbs, who is clipping his courses for a 91 average. He is followed closely, at 90, by freshman Jay Rowland, perhaps the most versatile member of the squad. Although his usual position is guard, Jay has played all positions this year and scored 28 points playing center in the Petrels win against Presbyterian College.

Billy Carter, the senior guard who only knows how to play one speed—full speed—is third with a 88.5. Coach Pinhoster has said he feels he has six men playing defense when Billy is in the game.

Plantation Pipe Line Receives GFIC Award

Plantation Pipe Line Foundation was awarded a citation for distinguished Corporate Citizenship by the Georgia Foundation for Independent Colleges on October 14 at the Capital City Club in Atlanta. Plantation Pipe Line sparked the independent college movement for increased business support in Georgia by making the first contribution to GFIC in November, 1956.

The award was presented by Foundation Vice-President, Waights G. Henry, president of LaGrange College, on behalf of member colleges. Dr. Henry recognized the outstanding service which Plantation Pipe Line has rendered non-tax supported higher education in the Southeast by aiding independent college foundations in all states where the company operates. President C. R. Younts of Plantation Pipe Line Co. received the award, expressing his appreciation to the officers of Plantation Pipe Line who early recognized the need for GFIC and his confidence in the successful future of the united fund for private higher education.

An honor roll of contributors in the present GFIC fiscal year, which began July 1, to November 10 is included below.

FACULTY DOINGS

Mr. William A. Carroll, Instructor of History at Oglethorpe University, was married on December 27 to Alice Middleton of Sumter, South Carolina, at Holy Trinity Church in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Carroll also attended the annual meeting of the Southern Political Science Association in Gatlinburg, Tennessee, November 6-8.

Mr. Leo Bilancio, Instructor of History, is the father of a new baby boy, Robert Ivan Bilancio. The six pound seven ounce baby was born on December 21 and was 21 inches long.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Bieler spent the Christmas holidays in New York, where Dr. Bieler, Professor of Modern Languages, attended the annual meeting of the Modern Language Association at the Statler Hotel on December 26-28, and the annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of French on December 29 and 30.

Mr. William A. Egerton, Professor of Business Management at Oglethorpe, is presently serving as consultant to Coca-Cola Co., Rich's Inc., Atlas Finance Co., and Crawford and Co.

Dr. Martin Abbott, Professor of History, had another article in the October issue of the South Carolina Historical Magazine. Entitled "County Officers in South Carolina in 1868," it deals with the character and qualifications of the men chosen by the voters to fill local offices during the inauguration of Radical rule in the state. The article is an effort to help remedy the deficiency in knowledge about the Reconstruction era.

Dr. Abbott and Mr. Bilancio also attended the annual meeting of the Southern Historical Association in Nashville, Tennessee on November 6-8.

Dr. A. Cheever Cressy, Jr., Professor of International Relations, participated in a panel discussion held at the Atlanta Woman's Club on January 17. The subject under discussion was "France and Algeria: Time for a New Policy?" Dr. Cressy presented the point of view of the United States in the controversy, while Dr. Ernest Lent, Professor of International Relations at Emory University, spoke from the position of the Algerian Nationalists.

Dr. Ben A. Bohnhorst, Professor of Education, attended the annual meeting of the Teacher Education Council at Jackson Lake, Georgia, November 9-11. On November 12, Dr. Bohnhorst spoke at a meeting of the Georgia Teachers Association at Cedartown on

REMINISCING WITH THE WENDELL BROWNS

Lord and Lady Oglethorpe

With Oglethorpe Day upon us and its college dance at which Lord and Lady Oglethorpe are crowned, it is interesting to look back upon the start of this annual event fourteen years ago in May.

At this time, as a sort of May Queen, the beautiful Rusty Hogan '49 was chosen Miss O. U. and crowned at a fish fry at Lake Phoebe. There was no male partner, although all the Oglethorpe men were willing. The next school year (Dec. 1945) a King and Queen in the persons of Betty Rae Olds (Villegas) '49 and James O. Stephens '48 were chosen by popular vote, the runners-up forming the attendant court. They were presented in the Great Hall preceding the Christmas Formal.

It was at this ceremony that the Men's Free Press, the hustling but short-lived rival of the Stormy Petrel, editor Charles Weltner '48, in order to scoop the competition, had printed and ready two papers each with a story about one of the two competing couples. The proper extra was "on the street" before the crowd has stopped applauding the announcement of the winners.

In 1947 the present scheme of things was initiated. The popular candidates were to be announced and crowned at a dance known as the Lord and Lady Oglethorpe Ball in honor of the new titles given the winners, held on the week-end nearest Oglethorpe (Georgia) Day, February 12. Again Charles Weltner had his share in things by designing the hand-tooled leather crowns, gaily colored and studded with "genuine jools" that are still in use. The first Lord and Lady to wear the crowns and lead off for the years to come were Joe Brown '49 and the late Frances Stribling (Fancher) '49.

FACULTY (continued)

"Improving Instruction in the Middle Grades".

Dr. George C. Seward was on a radio panel show Sunday, November 30 on "What's Wrong with the Colleges?" on WSB Radio. Dr. Seward was also on a "Witness" program on WSB Radio on December 7. The subject was "Open Mike on Higher Education".

Professor George Wheeler of the Physics Department has been elected co-chairman of the University Center

January, 1959

THROUGH THE YEARS

Dr. Adolph W. Aleck '23 is now head of the Department of General Education at Mississippi State College.

O.U. Alumnus Only County Chaplain In U. S.

An Oglethorpe graduate is the only full-time county chaplain in the United States. Chaplain W. P. Allison '33 has been serving as Chaplain for 20 years, a period that he describes as "twenty years in and out of jails".

The Rev. Mr. Allison began as Chaplain on a part-time basis in 1938. After serving for three years as an army chaplain in World War II, he took over as Chaplain to Fulton County jails and prison camps. This job was created when the Fulton County Grand Jury recommended having a full-time Chaplain to promote, plan, and support religious services in the various county institutions.

His duties are primarily religious. However, he spends a lot of time counseling persons in all walks of life as well as prisoners. Aside from his religious duties, the Rev. Mr. Allison serves as a link between the prisoner and his family, helps solve their problems, publishes the prison newspaper, supervises a summer athletic program, tries to interest illiterate prisoners to read and write through other trained inmates, presides at paupers' funerals, and supervises a rehabilitation program. He also serves as a supply pastor in the state and often speaks to civic clubs and parent-teacher groups.

Physics Group. Other member schools are Agnes Scott, Emory, Georgia, Georgia Tech, and Columbia Theological Seminary.
